AGRI-URBAN ON THE ROAD

Just halfway towards our goals following the marked route, the AGRI-URBAN Network (URBACT III Programme) held a transnational meeting in the Swedish city of Södertälje from 21 to 24 May 2017. A turning point in the agenda of this project, the meeting focused on the experience of this city and also put the emphasis on shaping the Integrated Action Plans of all partners of the project with the participation of their respective ULGs

I) TRANSNATIONAL LEARNING IN SÖDERTÄLJE

I.1 A LOCAL POLICY COMMITTED TO A HOLISTIC VISION OF THE FOOD SYSTEM

The trip started at the dawn of the 21st century and the Södertälje Diet Unit explained it.

1.2 ORGANIC AND BIODYNAMIC PRODUCTION, SHORT CIRCUITS, SOCIAL INCLUSION

The Lindblom Cafe in Torekallberget serves as a place of inclusion, retraining, language learning, job training, education - using food and agriculture as natural tools. The food is produced locally and organically as much as possible, and cooperation takes place with different suppliers also considered as part of the process.

I) TRANSNATIONAL LEARNING IN SÖDERTÄLJE

NORRBYVALLE

The Norrbyvälle farm has been active over the last thirty years.

At present they have two residences where they offer daily activities for adults, as well as accommodation for young people with neuropsychiatric disorders. His approach is based on the anthroposophical idea of man and the focus of attention is therapeutic training for young people and social therapy for adults.

I.4 CREATIVE EMPLOYMENT: UNDER TALLARNA

Skogsbrynet is a border area between forest and society, between nature and culture, where opposites can unite and enrich each other. Five young people have created a cooperative that cultivates land - 1.8 rented hectares belonging to the municipality of Södertälje - where they also offer cultural, social and educational activities. A co-creative learning project.

II) AGRI-URBAN UPDATED

Miguel Sousa, Lead Expert at AGRI-URBAN has organized two technical sessions aimed at analysing how local groups are functioning in each city, as well as to gather some of the first ideas of action that begin to shape the content of the Integrated Action Plans that each city will design. Here are some results of these sessions (I, II, III):
